June Docville: Dreamcatcher by Kim Longinotto
Thursday, June 25, 8 p.m. at Cinéma Excentris

Montreal, Wednesday, June 10, 2015 – The Montreal International Documentary Festival (RIDM) is pleased to announce the sixth (and second-last) Docville screening of the year, Dreamcatcher by Kim Longinotto. The new documentary by the director of the highly acclaimed Salma (2013) won the award for best director at Sundance earlier this year.

For more than 25 years, Brenda Myers-Powell, also known as Breezy, was a drug addict and prostitute. Now the head of the Dreamcatcher charitable organization in Chicago, she is a symbol of hope for hundreds of women and girls who want to get out of prostitution and change their lives. As we follow the charismatic Brenda, we enter the lives of young women who believe that prostitution is helping them survive. With unshakable determination and deep empathy, Brenda shows how one person can make a real difference in the lives of many others.

The Docville series is presented by Télé-Québec.

Since 2012, the RIDM's Docville series, presented on the last Thursday of every month, has given audiences the chance to see Montreal premieres of excellent documentaries that have enjoyed recent success at the world's most prestigious festivals. In many cases, a Docville screening is the only chance to see the film on a big screen in Montreal, and the filmmakers often make themselves available for audience Q&A sessions.

Tickets for all Docville screenings are available from the Excentris box office and website (cinemaexcentris.com). Single screenings cost $12 or $10 for students and seniors.

Transferable seven-admission cards are available for $50 from the Excentris box office and our website.

Quebec's only film festival dedicated to documentaries, the Montreal International Documentary Festival presents the best reality-based films, including the works of established directors and new talents.

The 18th annual RIDM will take place from November 12 to 22, 2015
